Mission Statement

The English department will collaborate with students to provide worthwhile, engaging experiences in the areas of reading, writing, speaking, and listening. These necessary skills foster critical thinking and enhance a student's overall educational experience.

Major Topics:

Course Descriptions - This class is designed to cover a variety of topics, focusing on such skills as reading, writing, public speaking, and listening. The purpose of this course is to provide you with a solid foundation for AP English Language and Composition.

Goals – By the end of the year, students will be able to

- Analyze a variety of texts for purpose, content, effect, and author's craft.
- Develop a variety of strategies for critical thinking, analyzing, and presentation of original ideas
- Create original documents, speeches, presentations, and other examples of their learning.

Essential Question – What challenges does society face? What does our future look like?

Major Topics -

- Four novels throughout the year – Lord of the Flies, Julius Caesar, The Glass Castle, and Fahrenheit 451.
- Various short stories, poetry, essays, and literary criticism
- Writing – essays, research papers, journals
- Vocabulary and Grammar
- Speeches, presentations, projects, and group work

Class Materials

Please be prepared for class every day. You should have the following items with you in class every day:

- A dark blue or black pen AND pencil (NOTE: only these colors are acceptable)
- Loose leaf paper
- A folder OR binder dedicated specifically for English II Honors
- A notebook or binder to take notes
- Any other books we use throughout the semester
- LCHS Assignment notebook and school ID

Classroom Activities and Grades

Your grade in this class is based on the following: class participation, class preparedness, tests and quizzes (including pop quizzes), daily assignments, major papers and projects, journals, and other possible activities. These grades will be sorted into three categories: Assessments (Papers, Projects, Speeches, Tests) (50%), Homework and Classwork (and participation, reading checks, etc.) (35%), and the Final Exam (15%). Grading is cumulative for the semester. There will be three progress reports to let you and your parents know how you are doing.

Tardiness

Punctuality is necessary so that we can begin class quickly. Please make every effort to get to class on time. Repeated tardiness will result in detentions. Refer to the student handbook for more information

Absences

Regular attendance is an important element of this class. You cannot learn if you are not here. When a legitimate absence occurs, it is your responsibility to get the make up work from me, find out what you missed, and make arrangements to hand in missing work. You must speak with me the day you return to class in order to receive makeup work. Please read the guidelines for make up work in the student handbook.

- If your absence is unexcused, I cannot accept any work done for or due on that day. This includes tests, papers, and other large assignments.
- If you will be attending a school field trip, you must make arrangements with me before the scheduled absence, or you will not be able to make up the work.

Late Work

Keeping up with the work is important to being successful in class. Late work is accepted for 50% credit. Assignments are due at the beginning of class unless I say otherwise.

- Major papers and projects will be accepted late, with a penalty of ten percent for every day late. If an assignment is eligible for this exception, it will be indicated on the assignment sheet.
- Speeches are due on the day you are assigned. Students not ready to give a speech will receive one additional chance for 50% credit. No credit may be earned after that time.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism and any other form of cheating, copying, or academic dishonesty from a peer or another source will result in a “0%” (zero) being awarded to each party involved. The team leader, counselor, or other administration personnel and parents will be involved.

District 117 has begun to use turnitin.com, and anti plagiarism service. All major writing assignments must be submitted to turnitin.com a maximum five days after the due date or a zero percent (0%) will be entered. A separate policy will be available regarding this software.

Electronic Devices

Electronic devices, including cell phones, smart phones, tablets, and laptops may only be used with permission. At no times are games, social media, texts, or phone calls acceptable. Electronic devices should be silent and out of sight unless prior approval is obtained. No video or audio recording in the classroom without student and teacher consent.

Allergy Notice

When our curriculum involves the handling and/or consumption of food, staff will notify students and parents/guardians in advance. Accommodations and/or alternative assignments will be made available for students with documented allergies. Please contact the classroom teacher or administration with any questions.

The information above is subject to change by verbal notification to the student.

Controversial Materials Statement

As in all areas, parents and guardians are a child’s first and most influential teachers. Parents, guardians, and schools share a common goal: we want students of all ages to be educated in all aspects of their lives. CHSD 117 understands that as a parent or guardian, you have the right to excuse your child from certain topics or curricula. Please review the topics in the various syllabi provided to your child. Each student will be included in learning all content found in each syllabus unless you requested that he/she be opted out during that specific time of learning. If opted out, your student will be provided with an alternative assignment. If you want to opt out your child from a specific topic, please see your child’s teacher or department chair within two weeks of the start of the curriculum.

Policies and Procedures

The LCHS student handbook outlines school wide policies, regulations, procedures, grading scale and discipline. All will be adhered to and upheld in the classroom.

Please see me if you ever have any questions or concerns about the course or coursework. I am here to help you. Please visit my website at www.lakesenglish.com for more information.
